TRAUMA CENTER: SECOND OPINION™
for the Wii™
November 14th, 2006

Need Second Opinion...STAT!

Atlus U.S.A., Inc., a leading publisher of interactive entertainment, today announced that the official release date of November 14th for Trauma Center: Second Opinion, exclusively for the Wii.

"Nintendo's vision perfectly aligns with our strategy to broaden our portfolio by allowing us to create new genres that have strong global appeal", says Shinichi Suzuki, President/CEO Atlus.

Trauma Center: Second Opinion-the follow up to the surprise hit, Trauma Center: Under the Knife™ for the NintendoDS™-takes advantage of the Wii Remote with such features as laser surgery, defibrillation, forceps, and more!

Trauma Center: Second Opinion turns your living room into an O.R.!

Sure, we've all imagined what it would be like to become a doctor. Years of medical school, residency, and clinic duty eventually pay off in a rewarding position saving people's lives. Or, you could skip all that and just put in a few hours after dinner.

The critically acclaimed medical drama simulation is making a house call on your Wii! Dr. Derek Stiles is back, but he's not the only surgeon on call—a new player joins the team, bringing along everything the doctor ordered: difficulty modes, new surgical implements like the defibrillator, and an exciting never-before-seen conclusion. So what are you waiting for? If one dose of Trauma Center wasn't enough, it's time you got a Second Opinion!
